EPI Invited to Speak to SPACC Young Professionals

Michelle Kelly Facilitates Session at St. Paul Area Chamber's Monthly Event

On February 15th, EPI's CEO, Michelle Kelly, will share the talk "New Mindset...New Results: Creative Thinking for the 21st Century."

Kelly has long been a proponent of encouraging increased creativity in the workplace. Creativity has been cited by multiple research studies as one of the most necessary skills to have by 2020.

"Creativity in the workplace can yield unexpected and oftentimes unimaginable results," Kelly says. "Whether we realize it or not, everyone has the capacity for creativity, in one way or another. Young professionals should take heart from the fact that creative skills can be developed or tuned-up."

In this interactive workshop, Kelly will bust common creativity myths, share typical ways we limit our creativity, and provide tangible tools for shifting into a creative mindset.

The workshop will be held on February 15, 2018, at 179 East Robie Street, Saint Paul, MN.
